

Health Fluency Project

Supporting the health of non-native English speakers in Boston and Beyond

Welcome!

The Health Fluency Project is a student-led initiative that aims to improve health literacy and communication in non-native English speaking communities in Boston and beyond. This newsletter is to keep you up to date with our mission!

Empowering Information

- New handouts coming soon!
 - Experimenting with AI-based translations of information
- To date, we have reached over 2,400 individuals across 42 countries!

The Health Fluency Project
English For Communicating
With Your Doctor

This workshop will help you build English skills to communicate to your doctor. Come learn and practice your English conversation skills!

Improving Access

- Continued hosting workshops and establishing relationships with new partner sites
 - Coming soon!
- To date, we have held over 20 workshops for over 215 individuals across the Boston area on HC communication skills.
- Using AuxHealth's MD&Me AI tool for augmenting practicing skills.

Advocating Change

- Major focus on AI implementation in health literacy organizations
 - Discussions with leading health literacy experts to implement novel solutions in the field.
- Awarded IHA Health Literacy Center's most innovative project!

Recent Advancements

- HFP is expanding!
 - In the process of recruitment from across the country, setting up satellite HFP programs in multiple major US cities.
 - Recruiting for Project Leads and Volunteers
 - Project leads are empowered to pursue any passion of theirs or collaborate with their community of choice (full autonomy)

Upcoming Projects

- Finalizing recruitment and partner sites/chapters
- More Infographics/Handouts being made
- Establishing 501(c)(3) status—paperwork filed

thank you for tuning in!
we'll catch you next time.

— the health fluency project

